Hope all of you are doing well and enjoying a great start to the week so far.

On this second day of Commencement Week at Atkins Library, please join me in congratulating our second graduate, Ms. Sindhuja Kasula!

Thanks for this submission from her supervisor, Becky Croxton!

Name: Sindhuja Kasula

Unit/Department: Assessment

Position: Assessment Analyst

Degree: MS in Computer Science (Data Science Concentration)

Hometown: Hyderabad, India.

Their "Superpower" or contribution to the library: Sindhuja's superpower is her ability to turn mountains of raw data into meaningful results that help our library make decisions. She also has an innate ability to take ambiguous and undefined ideas and independently come up with actionable next steps and turn projects around in record time with tremendous accuracy and attention to detail!

Years of service to Atkins Library: 5 months

Words from their supervisor: Sindhuja's friendly demeanor and enthusiasm for tackling new challenges is contagious. The Atkins Library has been lucky to have Sindhuja on our Assessment Team and will miss her after she graduates.

Have you been to the padlets yet to share your celebratory remarks?

Here's the one for graduates of 2020: <https://padlet.com/mgachet1/Atkins2020Grads>

Here's the one for UNC Charlotte Alumni who work at the library:

Scared of padlets? Don't worry! Take a look at Chesney's email for how to log on.

Thanks so much!

Michelle and Stephanie
